

Notice of intent to claim or vary a deduction for personal super contributions instructions

We have provided some information below to assist you with the completion of the Notice of intent to claim or vary a deduction for personal super contributions.

For full instructions on how to complete this form, please go to <https://www.ato.gov.au/Forms/Notice-of-intent-to-claim-or-vary-a-deduction-for-personal-super-contributions>

Who should complete this notice?

You should complete this notice if you:

- intend to claim a tax deduction for your personal super contributions
- want to vary a previous valid notice of intent you gave to us.

For more information about the contribution caps and co-contributions, refer to Super contributions – too much super can mean extra tax, and search for ‘super co-contribution’ at www.ato.gov.au

When deciding whether to claim a deduction for super contributions, you should consider the impact this might have on whether you will exceed your contribution caps, and whether it will affect your super co-contribution eligibility.

When should I complete this notice?

You must give a notice of intent to claim a deduction to us on or before whichever of the following occurs earliest:

- the day you lodge your income tax return for the year in which the contributions were made
- the last day of the income year after the income year in which you made the contributions.

You can apply to vary a previous valid notice of intent if:

- you have not yet lodged your income tax return and it is on or before 30 June in the financial year following the year you made the contribution
- the ATO have disallowed your claim for a deduction and you are applying to reduce the amount claimed as a deduction by the amount that the ATO have disallowed.

You must either make your contribution to us before you give your notice of intent or send your contribution to us with your notice of intent.

To claim a deduction for your contribution you must have given us a valid notice of your intent to claim a deduction, in the approved form, on or before the day you lodge your income tax return (or the end of the next income year, whichever occurs first), and we must have given you an acknowledgment of our receipt of the notice.

Will I be eligible for a deduction?

You can claim for a deduction for your personal super contributions if all of the following apply:

- you are still a member of the fund when you give us a valid notice in the approved form, on time
- when you give your notice, we have not begun to pay an income stream (for example, a pension) based on part or all of the contributions for which you intend to claim a deduction
- you have received acknowledgment from us of your intention to claim a deduction
- we have accepted your contribution for which you want to claim a deduction
- the amount you intend to claim as a deduction is covered by one or more valid notices
- you have not applied to split the contribution for which you intend to claim a deduction
- you meet the other eligibility criteria to claim a deduction. This can be found by visiting the ATO’s website at www.ato.gov.au and searching for ‘claiming deductions for personal super contributions’
- you have not withdrawn an amount or rolled out to another fund all or part of the contribution for which you want to claim a deduction.

How do I change an amount previously included on a valid notice?

If you wish to increase the amount that you want to claim as a deduction, you can do so provided you are still within the time limits specified above for lodgement of the notice of intent. However, you do not lodge a variation to the first notice. Instead, you lodge a second notice specifying the additional amount you wish to claim. At question 10, ‘Is this varying an earlier notice’ in section C, place an ‘X’ in the ‘No’ box.

If you wish to reduce the amount you intend to claim as a deduction, you will need to lodge a variation to your original notice of intent sent to us. The variation does not alter a previous notice; instead, it is a new notice which replaces a previous valid notice and shows the amount of the contributions which you now want to claim as a tax deduction. At question 10 ‘Is this notice varying an earlier notice?’ in section C, place an ‘X’ in the ‘Yes’ box.

You cannot vary a previous valid notice if we no longer hold the contribution covered by that previous valid notice, if you are no longer a member of the fund, or if we have begun to pay an income stream based on all or part of the contribution covered by the previous valid notice.

Claiming a deduction after a partial rollover or withdrawal

Special rules apply if you made a withdrawal or rolled over part of your super during the year.

We will no longer hold a contribution, or at least a part of it, if you have chosen to roll over or withdraw a part of your super account held by us. In such a case, a deduction notice cannot be given for the entire contribution.

A valid notice of intent will be limited to a proportion of the tax-free component of the super account that remains after the rollover or withdrawal. That proportion is the value of the relevant contribution divided by the tax-free component of the super account immediately before the rollover or withdrawal.

Where you have made a partial rollover or withdrawal and you do not know the tax free component and value of your super interest immediately before your rollover or withdrawal, we may be able to confirm these amounts for you. Alternatively, you may need to seek independent financial advice to assist you to calculate the maximum deduction amount, to ensure you lodge a valid notice.

If you send a notice indicating that you intend to claim more than the tax-free component of what remains in your super account, that notice will be invalid.

For more information on how to deal with deductions involving multiple partial rollovers or withdrawals please refer to the ATO website: www.ato.gov.au/Forms/Notice-of-intent-to-claim-or-vary-a-deduction-for-personal-super-contributions or refer to taxation ruling TR 2010/1

If you send us an invalid deduction notice, we will not be able to acknowledge it. You will need to lodge a new valid notice and receive acknowledgment from us to enable you to claim a deduction for your contribution.

Note that this amount cannot be greater than the amount you stated you would be claiming on the original notice.

Section D: Declaration

For more information about deductions for personal super contributions and the criteria you must meet to be eligible, go to www.ato.gov.au and search for 'Claiming deductions for personal super contributions'.

There are two declarations. Read the declaration that applies to you. If it is correct, print your full name, then sign and date the declaration.

Your two choices are:

- Intention to claim a tax deduction declaration – complete this declaration if you have not previously notified us that you are intending to claim a tax deduction for the personal contributions you have listed in this notice or if this notice is an additional notice to increase the amount you intend to deduct.
- variation of previous valid deduction notice declaration – complete this declaration if you have already lodged a valid notice with us for these contributions and you wish to reduce the amount stated in that notice.

You can only vary a previous valid notice of intent to reduce the amount you are claiming as a personal deduction.

How do I claim a deduction?

We will give you an acknowledgment of a valid notice. Once your notice of intent to claim a deduction has been acknowledged, you cannot revoke or withdraw it, but you can apply to reduce it.

To claim a deduction for your contribution you must give us a valid notice of your intent to claim a deduction, in the approved form, on or before the day you lodge your income tax return (or the end of the next income year, whichever occurs first), and we must have given you acknowledgment of the receipt of the notice.

Once you have lodged your tax return you cannot apply to vary the amount you are claiming as a personal deduction, unless the ATO have disallowed your claim for the deduction.
